

Dr. Will L. Ellerbeck, one of Salt Lake's best known young dentists, and a leading member of the Elks, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, is one of the galaxy of beauty whose smiling face ornaments the pages of the Elks' souvenir edition. The popular young man is one of the leaders in society as well as professional circles.

Dr. William F. Beer, who has been a member of the Elks of this city for the past year, is one of the foremost practitioners in medical lines, a graduate of the 1892 class in the medical department of the Columbian university of Washington, D. C. He is also a native son of Utah, having made his first public appearance in Salt Lake City in 1866.

Dr. John F. Critchlow is one of the best known surgeons in the state and enjoys an extensive practice. He is one of the most popular members of 85, and has an enviable army record, having served throughout the volunteer campaign in the Philippines as Captain of battery B of the Utah troops.

Doctor Samathiel Ewing, one of the most widely and favorably known physicians in the city, has been practicing in Salt Lake for the past ten years and has identified himself with the local lodge of Elks by conscientious work and good-fellowship.

Dr. E. F. Root is one of the city's best physicians, enjoying a large practice. He is highly esteemed in social and professional circles, and a prominent member of the order of Elks.

K. C. Park, M. D., who has been a member of the Elks for a little over a year past, is one of Salt Lake's leading homeopathic physicians, who left his home in the Windy City three years ago to cast his lot among the Zionites. He is also interested in several mining properties in northern Utah, as well as director of the Salt Lake Mining & Improvement company. The doctor is a general favorite in society and club circles, and has made a host of friends since hanging out his shingle in Salt Lake.

George Cronk—'nuff said!

"Crazy Horse," Ed. O. Brant, will be on deck with his tomahawk.

Charley Kauffman of Hoboken will be here with his fog horn.

Julius Zaeder of the four Zaeder brothers, commonly known as "the big four" of the Worcester lodge, is a critic on Pilsner. Watch him.

Bert Lyon of Joplin, Mo., will have to be shown.

Past Grand Exalted Ruler Jerome B. Fisher holds the love and esteem of every member of No. 85, in fact of every Elk in the United States.

Grand Secretary George A. Reynolds of Saginaw, Mich., will be on exhibition with his little library.

Beech Taylor of Omaha No. 39 will cut a wild swath through the flowers.

Grand Trustee Harry Mears of No. 7 Baltimore, is building a bouquet to hand the visiting brothers in 1903.

Arthur C. Moreland, the figurehead of No. 1 will be here to expound the cause of Saratoga Springs. We wish him better success than he had last year.